

One. . .

A few weeks later the company paid the Forgan school taxes and Mark approved the drilling of the new wells.

I thought that was an interesting thing and good for Forgan school.

By the way if you want to know more, I suggest you contact your representative or Balko school!

I hope enough folks get together and decide to do the community Thanksgiving dinner.

ner. Just about everything is donated but take lots of cooking to prepare the meal.

I think Kelly Cramer said they generally plan for 400 folks to show up for the meal.

It does take a lot of work but just because some preachers have moved, we should still provide the meal for the community. Some folks can say prayers just as good as the preachers!

I am sure various folks will get together and we did it for the fair and cow chip, why not do the Thanksgiving meal?

The Christmas On Douglas is generally the next week.

It is time to step up and help the Ministerial Alliance!

Walk this Weigh program also begins after the weather cools down.

I have been trying to walk as much as I can and pushing a mower works when my weeds get too tall.

It generally is nice in the early mornings here.

Here are the fair totals:
2020 2021 2022 2023
1009 1332 1138 1068

There were 198 rodeo entries and cow chip throw had 60 plus that are not in the fair totals plus a bunch that showed up for the barbecue contest.

There were many who showed up to watch.

We have another year to get ready for the fair and cowchip and working together, it can happen!

Steve Shadden has loaded me down with some great reading and interesting and good history, etc.! Been running out of daylight.

Lessons every Sunday morning with church beginning at 10:45 a.m. at Beaver Presbyterian Church. You are welcome to our church anytime.

Poll. . .

In the 2020 election, Biden defeated Trump among under 30 voters by 60-36 but, in McLaughlin's survey, his margin has dropped to 53-42, a decrease of 13 points.

The economy is the big reason for the change.

By 55-38, under 30 voters say the economy is getting worse, not better. (Nationally all voters say it's getting worse by 64-32).

42 percent of the under 30 voters say they are "struggling to keep up and, another 41 percent say that while the state of the economy has "impacted" them, they are not struggling. Only 17 percent reported feeling no impact from the economy.

Despite their growing disaffection for Biden, young voters differ sharply from the rest of the country in their overall philosophy of government. Asked if they would prefer a "smaller government with fewer services or a larger government with many services," voters under 30 chose larger government by 54-24. This trend contrasts sharply with the opinion of all voters who favor smaller government by 46-35.

But young people are not socialists. By 46-30, they describe themselves as believers in "free market capitalism" as opposed to "big government socialism."

But despite their leftist bias, disappointment in Biden's economic record is driving them to switch to Trump.

Trump is on the road to victory.

Biden is on track to oblivion.
