Keynote

“Clinical Judgment: In the Classroom and Beyond”

Karin J. Sherrill, MSN, RN, CNE, CHSE, ANEF, FAADN

Karin is passionate about faculty development, student success, and using clinical judgment as a teaching pedagogy. Her teaching experience has spanned over three decades and included Associate Degree and BSN completion programs. She has developed courses and facilitated traditional, hybrid, Online, lab, simulation, and clinical classrooms. As an educator, she has been involved with a plethora of projects including informatics, Next Gen NCLEX®, scrambled teaching strategies, test, and item writing, and the integration of classroom, lab, and simulation technologies. She has co-authored several books and products for NurseTim®, Inc. Karin chairs the Maricopa Nursing Testing and Student Success Committees and is a past president of the Arizona League for Nursing. She was the founding president of the Arizona Simulation Network. In addition to facilitating consultations with NurseTim® Inc., consulting work includes the National League for Nurses Testing Services, National Council State Board of Nursing, and several publishing companies. In her spare time, Karin and her family have discovered a love and commitment for serving and supporting the people of Leogane, Haiti.

KEYNOTE ADDRESS:

“Clinical Judgment: In the Classroom and Beyond”

Karin J. Sherrill, MSN, RN, CNE, CHSE, ANEF, FAADN (Nurse Tim ®)

The purpose of this keynote is to present an overview of clinical judgment, discuss strategies for using simulation in the classroom to facilitate clinical judgment, assist those in both academia and clinical settings to use simulation in building clinical judgment skills.

Lunch Session:

TeamSteps Presentation: “Communication”

S Scott Atkinson, Lead Simulation Technology Operations Specialist SimGhosts Representative TeamSteps Educator

The purpose of this lunch presentation is to educate and equip all healthcare professionals to communicate with one another effectively and efficiently in a non-hostile, non-judgmental manner. This will be presented during our lunch break.

Breakout Sessions:

“Bringing Clinical to the Classroom.”

Karin J. Sherrill, MSN, RN, CNE, CHSE, ANEF, FAADN (Nurse Tim ®)

The purpose of this workshop is to assist those in academia to bring clinical into the classroom. Understanding that simulation and clinical judgment is not for clinical alone but needs to be used in the classroom setting as well. This is an interactive, hands-on experience.

“Hands-on Training with an Expert”

Bud Abbott, Laerdal Client Executive II

The purpose of this workshop is to allow for hands-on training with real simulators. This will be designed so that both novice and experienced alike, will be able to learn something. This will also be a great opportunity to see the new products coming out from Laerdal.

“Training with Gaumard Experts”

Gaumard

The purpose of this workshop is to allow for hands-on training with real simulators. This will be a great opportunity to work with product experts and fellow healthcare professionals. This will be interactive and will be designed for both novices and experienced participants.

“Moulage”

Josie Scott, RN, MSN, M. Ed

This interactive, hands-on workshop will give you tips and tricks from a simulation expert on ways to enhance realism in simulation using moulage. It will cover ideas that are useful for nursing, respiratory therapy, EMS, CNA/CMA, and more!

“INACSL Healthcare Simulation Standards: Not just for nurses”

Nichole Jackson, DNP, MSN, RN, CNE, CHSE

INACSL has updated its simulation standards and updated the verbiage of the standards to include all healthcare, not just nursing. Not only did they update the name, but two new standards were added. What does this mean for the simulation community? How can you make sure your program is meeting all these standards? What if I do not even know what INACSL is? This workshop can help you with all these questions and more.

“What certification is right for me?”

S Scott Atkinson. Lead Simulation Technology Operations Specialist. SimGhosts Representative. TeamStepps Educator.

As simulation continues to grow in popularity for use in healthcare, the need for standardized national certifications will also increase. There are several simulation certifications available, but how do you know which one is right for you? Scott will review the different types of certifications and what each certification has to offer.

“Debriefing Models: Which one is right for your organization?” Nichole Jackson, DNP, MSN, RN, CNE, CHSE

There are several different debriefing models available, so how do you choose which one is right for your program? Dr. Jackson will review the different models and discuss the pros and cons of each. This will be interactive and will give hands-on experience with the different models.

Panel Discussion: “Finally, something for me!!!”

Dustin Hicks, MSN, RN (Moderator)

This panel is comprised of professionals that use simulation well outside of nursing. It includes surgical techs, respiratory therapy, CNA/CMA, EMS, and those in clinical education positions outside of academia. Hear from experts in your own profession discussing methods they have used for simulation that work.
