

Human Intelligence: aka Informants

How to Identify and Manage Risk Mitigation and Street Ops Event Planning

April 1, 2026

Sponsored by Tulsa County Sheriff's Office

Informants are an invaluable asset in the acquisition of information and intelligence. Informants can provide real-time intelligence on any criminal activities. However, informants can present challenges to even the most skilled controlling officer. This course will teach some of the skills needed to identify and manage informants. Additionally, it will outline how to mitigate risk in the management of informants, when they are deployed undercover. Additionally, how to mitigate risk in the planning of enforcement operations when using undercovers and setting up street enforcement operations.

If you work in any Law Enforcement roles such as fraud, homicide, drugs, gangs, gun crimes, sex crimes, human trafficking, property crimes, patrol, street crime units, auto theft or any place where you might use an Informant, this class is for you! Prosecutors are highly encouraged to attend as this class is for you also.

This eight (8) hour class will cover such Topics as:

- | | |
|--|---|

Review by a previous student:

- "Most direct CI training I've been to."
- "I loved how energetic and enthusiastic you are while presenting. I really liked the stories you told as they really drove home the points. It is clear you have so much experience."
- "No joke, I have attended a lot of drug related training throughout my career and your course was right up there at the top. Also, helps to have an instructor that knows their stuff and the delivery was great. Already implementing some changes in my unit as a result."
- "Selby brings exceptional expertise in managing informants. In his tailored presentation, his depth of knowledge and experience shone through, delivering a wealth of valuable information while keeping the audience fully engaged."
