

Nurse Aide Emergency Waiver Training Program Manual

Manual for Nurse Aide Training Program Operation During Emergency Waiver

April 1, 2020

PURPOSE

This handbook should be as a guide for the instructors who will be instructing the new employees. It includes information and resources for maintaining compliance.

We know during this time of emergency you will not have the time to do a complete training of the curriculum required for an approved training program. We are not requiring you to do that. But we are requiring you to make sure your staff has at least a broad knowledge of the mandatory training for specific to the type aide you will be hiring for Home Health, IID/ICF, Residential Care, or Adult Day Care.

If you would like to use the AHCA, American Health Care Association, eight (8) hour approved Nurse Aide training program they are offering you can also use it. Here is the link <https://educate.ahcancal.org/products/temporary-nurse-aide>.

Performance Skills Checklist

Learning the basic skills for a nurse aide is an essential part of the student's curriculum. The skills they learn will enable them to establish themselves in the clinical setting. The instructor must make sure every skill is taught and the student has been found proficient in the skill before the instructor and student date and initial beside the learned skill on the Skills Performance Checklist.

The program is to keep the original Skills Performance Checklist and give the student a copy when completed and signed by the instructor (and during the training if needed).

This record serves as the primary documentation for the clinical skills and is the fundamental resource that the RN Supervisor uses to ensure that the skill performance has been met for each individual student.

Performance Skills Checklist: Please feel free to download and use. The skills on this model are the required skills. Please make sure that each skill is been taught and the trainee has been found proficient before dating and signing.
