Dear Abby....

Mom must bear son-in-law for the sake of her daughter

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'm not proud to write this, but I don't like my son-in-law. I think the feeling is mutual. He's arrogant and thinks he knows everything.

My daughter and I had a close bond before she married him. That quickly changed. She barely comes to my house anymore, and I don't see my grandkids as often as I'd like. I don't have a car (I'm working on that), and I rely on them for transportation. I don't like going to their house because I don't feel wanted.

I tolerate my son-in-law because I know my daughter loves him and I try hard to stay out of their business. What advice can you offer me? -- WISHING THINGS WERE BETTER

DEAR WISHING: Has it occurred to you that your daughter may be hurt or uncomfortable because she knows you dislike her husband? If he makes your daughter happy and is a good father to your grandchildren, give him points for that, and be glad you aren't the one who has to live with him.

You don't have to love him, but you must maintain a cordial relationship if only for your daughter's sake. Keep working on getting that car so you'll have your own transportation when you need it, and your visit won't be perceived as an imposition.

DEAR ABBY: My son is angry

20. This is ruining the once knit family we had. Any advice can offer would be appreciated. MESS ON THE EAST COAST

DEAR MESS: Your son needs to grow up. He values his friendship with you, but he will have to accept that he can't control the love lives of other people. The person he is punishing with distance he has taken is himself. It's time for you to step back. Your spouse will be better off if you stop allowing your adult tantrum(s) to affect you.

DEAR ABBY: While dining at a fancy restaurant recently, I noticed a woman sitting a few tables away who had a number of tattoos on her arms and elsewhere. When she came by, I politely asked her if one of them meant. My wife was furious! Did I do something wrong? -- INQUIRING CATION

DEAR INQUIRING: People often have deeply personal meanings to the wearers. Although individuals might welcome the opportunity to explain themselves to a stranger, others would not be so forthcoming. The tattoo may commemorate a personal -- or sad -- memory. Your wife may have become suspicious because she felt the question presumptuous.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO CONSTRUCT

In order to comply with the requirements of Oklahoma law, codified as The Oklahoma Wind Energy Development Act, specifically Section 160.21 of Oklahoma Statutes Title 17, and as it relates to certain Rules promulgated by the Oklahoma Corporation Commission ("Commission"), NextEra Energy Resources, LLC (the "Company") hereby informs the Commission of its intent to construct the Crowder wind energy project (the "Project") concurrently located in Caddo and Washita Counties, Oklahoma. It is important to note that this filing is the initiation of the notice of intent to construct and it supersedes the January 30, 2017 filing which was retracted February 1, 2017.

The Project has been under active development since 2016. The most recent FAA form 7460-1 filing was made on January 31, 2017. A summary of the FAA form 7460-1 filings for each wind turbine tower location within the Project boundary is attached as Exhibit A. Exhibit B to this letter presents a diagram showing the real estate analyzed and included in statutory setback compliance. As of the date of this notice, and based on publicly available data, Company attests that the Project design complies with the setbacks required by the OK Siting Laws.

In accordance with Oklahoma law, the Company also confirms it is submitting a notice of intent to construct to the Caddo County and Washita County Board of the Commissioners in the form attached hereto as Exhibit C. Notice is also being provided to the Town of Corn in accordance with OK Siting Laws regarding project facilities located within an incorporated area of a municipality.
