Online child exploitation reports were increasing before the COVID-19 crisis, and reports have escalated since the outset of the pandemic. Investigation and prosecution of technology-facilitated crimes against children must be prioritized. This workshop will provide current best practices for prosecution of technology-facilitated crimes against children. Participants will gain understanding and applications of trial strategies that effectively utilize common evidence in cases of online child exploitation. Mr. Peters will also provide a list of key sources of evidence.
