DISCUSSION REGARDING REPORT FROM COMMISSIONER
Commissioner Slatton Hodges presented her report as follows:

Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated there were a couple of press conferences in the last couple weeks as Governor Stitt is doing acknowledgements for the work that was done this session. She stated she was in Lawton to acknowledge the funding for the Cohen Veteran’s Center. She stated it was a wonderful day, and the First Lady was able to join.

Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated that yesterday there was a press conference for the bill that was signed that moves forward with a new type of contracting for the Medicaid system allowing for ACOs and NCOs. She stated this was acknowledging the work done this session.
Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated there have been some recent changes in the regional offices so there is a regional HHS office and a regional Saints office. Commissioner Slatton-Hodges met with Dr. Sima, the Regional Director for HHS out of Houston.

Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated there is a new regional SAMHSA who is Traci Murray. She stated this is the second in a row regional SAMHSA director that is a member of the Choctaw tribe and is an Oklahoman and has worked in Oklahoma Behavioral Health. She stated it is nice to be able to have cohorts that we have known for a long time in these roles.

Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated there is continued work and meet around a partnership that the department is looking to develop in Oklahoma County jail as a pilot for our competency restoration and jail. She stated the department is partnering both with Turnkey and the Oklahoma County jail to create a project that can then be replicated in other areas of the state.

Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated there was an opioid commission meeting. She indicated the commission seemed to be wrapping up their work and having some conversations about whether that committee should continue forward or not. She stated that committee has achieved a tremendous amount over the years. This committee was born when prescriptions for opiate medications were incredibly high in Oklahoma and had very little oversight or regulation. She stated this committee made a wide berth of recommendations to the legislature and the Governor who had really changed that trajectory. She stated that the real issues now have to do with fentanyl and non-prescription opiates that are on the street as opposed to physicians prescribing opiates and creating new addicts.

Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated the department is working on a cross-agency pay for success kind of consortium. She stated that ODMHSAS and DHS have done several pay for success models, but the departments are looking at opportunities to combine efforts in the future. There have been two meetings around that now with a third scheduled to see what the two agencies can do together around kids and the pay for success model.

Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated that for the most part her regular meetings with both provider stakeholders and agency stakeholders have occurred. She also stated that the internal agency goals meeting was held. She explained that there is an annual, two-day retreat with the clinical and prevention staff to set the course very concretely for what the department will be achieving next year, breaking those down into measurable steps, and ensuring updates of progress are provided. She stated that on the second part of the retreat, finance and HR were pulled in so they could also wrap around and know what kinds of support and energy was needed to pull everything off for next year. She stated this will all be in place by July 1st.
Mr. Moini asked Commissioner Slatton-Hodges what kind of drop has been seen from the highs regarding opiate prescriptions?

Commissioner Slatton-Hodges answered that in terms of pills prescribed in Oklahoma, it has been at least a 50% drop. She stated that the thing that went into place that made a huge difference were (1) physicians needing to check the prescription monitoring program to see if someone was already getting those types of prescriptions or other medications that could layer into the effects of those. Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated that became mandated. Commissioner Slatton-Hodges also stated the length of time by which a prescription could be written for was cut down to 7 days. Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated there are some exceptions. She stated there are some cancer exceptions. Commissioner Slatton-Hodges also added that the fact that they needed to have a face-to-face meeting before re-prescribing where before you could do that over the phone. Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated there were also some limits on the equivalency of what you were prescribing to people. Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated there were some caps that were in place on how much you could prescribe. Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated more persons were created becoming addicted than the department could keep up with in treating them. Commissioner Slatton-Hodges stated the department worked diligently to simultaneously have MAT (medication-assisted treatment), which is evidence-based treatment for opiates across the state as the same time that those things were going into place so that we were not losing anybody through the cracks.

A summary of their presentation is as follows:
The Crisis Intervention Team is a law enforcement training partnering both police officers and the community together for common goals of safety, understanding and service to individuals with mental illness and their families. Officers participate in a 5-day, 40-hour CIT training program. The training consists of several classes taught by a variety of instructors including a mental health professional, a Substance Abuse Specialist, Police Officers, and representatives from NAMI. Panel discussions with service providers from the Community Mental Health Centers are also included. This training prepares officers to safely de-escalate a crisis, determine the need for emergency treatment and get the consumer to professional treatment as quickly as possible.

Since embarking in this program in 2002, more than 2,200 Oklahoma law enforcement officers from 170 different agencies have been trained by ODMHSAS. In Fiscal year 2022 ODMHSAS obtained a federal grant that allowed a full time CIT trainer to be hired. This allowed the agency to double the amount of CIT trainings across the state in one year. In FY22, 20 classes and 514 officers were trained in CIT across the state. The agency is also in the process of building an online training library for law enforcement. Currently there are 10 online trainings available on the ODMHSAS website.
