WHAT IS “UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFIT COMPENSATION?”

The Employment Security Act of 1980 provides that under certain conditions payments of money may be made to unemployed individuals from an unemployment compensation fund contributed to by employers subject to the Act.

WHO PAYS UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION TAX?

Oklahoma employers and nonprofit organizations (other than those described in Section 501(C)(3) of the IRS Code) pay the tax if they employ one or more workers in each of twenty different calendar weeks during a calendar year or if they have a payroll of $1,500.00 in a calendar quarter or are liable under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act.

Nonprofit organizations as described in Section 501(C)(3) of the IRS Code will be liable if they employ four or more workers in each of twenty different calendar weeks during a calendar year.

All state agencies, cities, towns, counties, public trusts, or local school districts, including nonprofit elementary and secondary schools, also pay unemployment taxes.

Agricultural employers who have a total payroll of $20,000.00 in any calendar quarter during a calendar year or have ten or more employees in twenty different calendar weeks during a calendar year are required to also pay the tax.

Domestic employers such as private homes, local college clubs or local chapters of college fraternities or sororities who pay $1,000.00 cash remuneration in any calendar quarter during a calendar year must also pay the tax.

CAN A CLAIMANT WHO QUILTS WORK RECEIVE UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS?

A claimant who voluntarily leaves their last work without good cause connected to the work is subject to a disqualification which denies benefits until the claimant becomes reemployed and has earned wages equal to or in excess of ten (10) times their weekly benefit amount.

ARE YOU NOTIFIED OF CLAIMS FILED?

Yes, if you are the last employer for whom the claimant worked at least 15 working days. The office through which the claim was filed will mail to you a form entitled “Notice of Application for Unemployment.”

Your reply in writing must be faxed to (405) 962-7524 within ten (10) days of the date the notice was mailed. If you do not reply within ten (10) days, you may be contacted by telephone for job separation or other information. Telephone contact does not mean you are an interested party.

If the individual voluntarily left work or was discharged by you, your protest should include full and complete facts. In the case of a voluntary quit, include the reason the individual gave you for leaving and explain why you do or do not think the reason was justified. This appeal must be in writing and postmarked or received within the time indicated on the determination. 8

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN AN APPEAL IS FILED?

When an appeal is received from either the claimant or the employer, the Appeal Tribunal schedules a hearing and notifies all interested parties of the time and the place of the hearing. Testimony given in these hearings is under oath and is recorded. An Administrative Hearing Officer considers the record and renders the decision. Copies of the decision are mailed to all interested parties. Further appeal from this decision may be made to the Board of Review within ten (10) days from the date of mailing the decision.

HIRE A VETERAN

Hiring veterans is good for your company's bottom line. Don't know where to begin? Check out "America's Heroes at Work - Veterans Hiring Toolkit" at <http://www.dol.gov/vets/ahaw/> for the step-by-step guide to hiring what will be some of your best employees - VETERANS!

Top Ten Reasons to Hire Veterans

- 1. Ability to learn new skills and concepts. While in the military, service members undergo rigorous training programs to become experts in a wide range of skills and concepts that can easily be transferred to a civilian work environment. The skills service members have learned and applied in real-world situations in the military make them ideal candidates to enhance your organization's productivity.
- 2. Strong leadership qualities. The military trains service members to lead by example as well as through direction, delegation, motivation, and inspiration in some of the toughest situations imaginable. Service members are not only well-schooled in the academic theory of leadership; they also understand and have used practical ways to manage behaviors for results.
- 3. Flexibility to work strongly in teams or work independently. Military training teaches service members to work as a team by instilling a sense of responsibility to one's colleagues. In addition, the size and scope of military operations necessitates that service members understand how groups of all sizes relate to each other and support the overarching objective. While military duties stress teamwork and group productivity, they also build individuals who are able to perform independently at a very high level.
- 4. Diversity and strong interpersonal skills. Service members have learned to work side by side with individuals regardless of race, gender, religion, ethnic and cultural backgrounds, economic status, and geographic origins as well as mental, physical and attitudinal capabilities. Many service members have also been deployed or stationed in numerous foreign countries which give them a greater appreciation for the diverse nature of our globalized economy.
- 5. Ability to work efficiently and diligently in a fast-paced environment. Service members have developed the capacity and time-management skills needed to know how to accomplish tasks correctly and on time, in spite of limited resources and immense pressure.
- 6. Respect for procedures and accountability. Service members know how policies and procedures enable an organization to be successful, and they easily understand their place within an organizational framework. Service members understand the responsibility that comes with being responsible for the actions of subordinates, and they understand how to properly elevate issues through the proper supervisory channels.
- 7. Hands on experience with technology and globalization. Today's military uses the cutting-edge technology to maintain our dominance over the enemy in the battlefield. From communications technology to the security of computer networks and hardware, service members must stay aware of emerging technologies in the public and private sector.

HIRE A VETERAN

- 8. Strong personal integrity. Military training demands that individuals not only abide by a strong Code of Ethics, but that they live it each and every day. Military personnel are often trusted with security clearances that give them access to highly sensitive information. An employee with a proven track record of trustworthiness is often an asset to an organization.
- 9. Strong sense of health, safety and property standards. Service members are aware of health and safety protocols both for themselves and the welfare of others. Individually, they represent a drug-free workforce that is cognizant of maintaining personal health and fitness. On a company level, their attentiveness and care translate into respect for employees, property and materials.
- 10. Triumph over adversity. In addition to dealing positively with the typical issues of personal maturity, service members have frequently triumphed over great adversity. Service members have proven their mettle in mission critical situations demanding endurance, stamina and flexibility. In the case of wounded warriors, they have overcome severe disabilities, acquired injuries (including invisible injuries) through strength, determination and personal conviction.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

What is Unemployment Benefit Compensation?

Under the Employment Security Act of 1980, payments may be made under certain conditions to unemployed individuals from an unemployment compensation fund subsidized by employers subject to the Act.

These payments are known as unemployment benefit compensation.

What is Unemployment Insurance?

Unemployment Insurance is a temporary income intended to help workers who are unemployed through no fault of their own. It is an insurance fully funded by employers.

The intent of Unemployment Insurance is to pay benefits to eligible claimants during times of unemployment when suitable work is not available.

The unemployment payment, while it provides necessities for the unemployed worker, also provides a consistent flow of funds into the economy which supports the demand for consumer goods and services and improves the worker's probability of being reemployed. Relief sustains the economy as it shifts to recovery.

Benefits are Payable to Individuals Who Are:

- ⌘ Unemployed through no fault of their own
- ⌘ Able and available to look for and accept employment or

- ⌘ Monetarily eligible (Unemployed individuals must monetarily qualify for benefits.) The minimum monetary qualifications are that the claimant earn at least $1500 in taxable wages and have total wages that equal or are in excess of one and one-half times his high quarter wages. However, if the individual earns wages equal to or greater than the taxable limit for the year in which the claim is filed, he will be monetarily eligible.

Is There a Federal Unemployment Insurance Law?

Federal legislation authorizing and governing state unemployment programs is found in both the Social Security Act and the Federal Unemployment Tax Act.

The Social Security Act establishes:

- ⌘ Funding for state unemployed insurance program administration
- ⌘ State law requirements
- ⌘ Federal unemployment compensation accounts

The Federal Unemployment Tax Act establishes:

- ⌘ Federal unemployment tax rates
- ⌘ Credits against the tax
- ⌘ State law approval provisions
- ⌘ Definitions

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

What is the Unemployment Insurance Act?

The purpose of the Employment Security Act of 1980, is to promote employment security by increasing opportunities for placement through the maintenance of a system of public employment offices and to provide through the accumulation of reserves for the payment of compensation to individuals with respect to their unemployment.

40 O.S. §1-102.

What are the Unemployment Insurance Rules?

The administrative rules governing the Oklahoma unemployment insurance program are found in the Rules for the Administration of the Oklahoma Employment Security Act, 40 O.S. §240:1-1-1 through §240:25-3-1.

The Rules for the Administration of the Unemployment Insurance Act are written statements providing the administrative guidelines for OESC to follow in delivering unemployment insurance services. These administrative rules are written under the authority of state and federal law and have the effect of law.

How to Keep the Cost of Unemployment Insurance Down?

There are a number of strategies that employers can use to minimize costs associated with unemployment insurance:

- ⌘ Pay employer taxes on time. If taxes are not paid on time, the employer will only receive 90 percent of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA) credit.

- ⌘ Keep all account information up to date. OESC sends notices to the addresses listed on an employer's Oklahoma account. If the address information is not updated, and the notice goes to an incorrect address, the notice will not be re-mailed, and the employer will lose their right to be an interested party to any subsequent determinations. Questions regarding employer account information can be directed to (405) 557-5330. Please note that all address changes must be submitted in writing or may be entered online through EZ Tax Express.

<https://eztaxexpress.oesc.state.ok.us>

- ⌘ Have written policies and procedures. A claimant cannot be denied for failing to follow policy or procedure if they do not know what that policy or procedure is or should have reasonably known.
- ⌘ Protest all claims where the separation was due to a reason other than lack of work. Also protest a claim any time the claimant is given severance pay in accordance with company policy. There is no guarantee that a timely response will result in disqualification. However, since the employer must prove misconduct in a discharge case, failing to protest or provide information could easily result in the allowance of benefits.

If there is no employer information, then misconduct will only be proven if the claimant gives self-disqualifying information.

- ⌘ Document everything. If a new policy is created, have all employees sign a receipt acknowledging they have been advised of the policy. If a verbal warning is given to an employee, document that the warning was given. If the employee is given one final chance after an incident takes place, document the fact that if it occurs again the employee will be discharged.

A “successor employer” is an employing unit that has acquired substantially all of the trade, employees, organization, business or assets of the predecessor employer and continued the operation. The successor employer also acquires the predecessor’s unemployment insurance tax rate and history, including their actual contribution, benefit experience and annual payrolls. The successor is jointly and severally liable with the predecessor for all contributions, interest, penalties and fees owed by the predecessor employer.

A partial successor employer is an employing unit that has acquired substantially all of the trade, employees, organization, business, or assets of an employer at one or more separate and distinct establishments and continued the operation. To acquire the portion of the experience rating account that was purchased, the successor must send a written application and the portion of history to be transferred within 120 days of the acquisition.

If an employer transfers all or a portion of its business to another employer and, at the time of transfer, there is substantially common ownership, management or control of the two employers, the histories of the employers will be combined.

GENERAL PROVISIONS AND DEFINITIONS

What Is Worker Misclassification?

Misclassifying workers as independent contractors, who are in fact employees, creates significant problems for the affected employees, competing employers, and to the entire economy. Combatting this practice has become a policy priority nationally. OESC is a partner agency with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) in the Questionable Employment Tax Practices Initiative that the IRS started. As such, we share information.

Employment versus independent contractor status is defined in 40 O.S. §1-210 (14). Oklahoma uses a version of the ABC Test for worker misclassification. We have no equivalent to Section 530 Safe Harbor, or the Voluntary Classification Settlement Program provisions which the IRS employs.

According to the ABC Test given in the Act, any individual providing services for hire is an employee until it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commission that:

The individual is free from direction and control¹ over his performance of service, and meets one of the following:

- ✎ The individual has his own independently established business, or
- ✎ The individual is performing services outside the usual course of the business and outside all places of business.

Individuals not meeting this criteria are considered employees and should be reported by the employing unit.

Should you have workers that you classify as independent contractors or that you are contemplating classifying as such, please contact OESC for a determination in order to avoid possible assessments, penalties, and interest at a later time.

What are Employer Audits?

The U.S. Department of Labor, Employment and Training Administration, sets mandatory performance goals to ensure states are correctly and efficiently administering the Unemployment Insurance program. One of the required measures is the employer audit program. Each state is required to audit selected employers for compliance with the Employment Security Act of 1980.

Employers are required by the Act to maintain work records for a period of four years. These records are to be open to inspection and subject to being copied by OESC. These provisions are found in 40 O.S. §4-502.

Records that are needed to complete an audit, according to U.S. Department of Labor guidelines, include:

- ✎ Federal and/or state income tax returns
- ✎ Franchise tax return (if employer is incorporated)
- ✎ Business licenses
- ✎ Federal and state payroll reports
- ✎ W-2 and W-3 forms
- ✎ Individual earnings records, payroll register, and time cards
- ✎ Disbursement records (cancelled checks, check stubs, cash disbursements journals, check registers, ACH transactions)
- ✎ 1099 and 1096 forms

WAGES

What are Wages?

“Wages” are defined in 40 O.S. §1-218. They include all remuneration for services whether in cash or any other medium. Dismissal payments that the employer is required by law or contract to make are wages, as are gratuities that are customarily received in the course of an employee’s work. The reasonable cash value of items other than cash will be estimated in accordance with the OESC Rules, §240:10-1-2.

The applicable percentage is determined by the conditional factor in place during the calendar year for which the taxable wage is being calculated. The conditional factor is determined pursuant to the provisions of 40 O.S. §3-113. The applicable percentages are as follows:

- ⌘ 40 percent during any calendar year in which the balance in the Unemployment Insurance trust fund is in excess of the amount required to initiate conditional contribution rates, pursuant to the provisions of 40 O.S. §3-113

How Does an Employer Calculate the Yearly Taxable Limitation Using Taxable Wages?

Once an employer has determined their total wages as defined by 40 O.S. §1-218, the employer can determine how much of its total wages are taxable up to the Taxable Limitation for each employee. This amount is computed per employee per year.

The following scenarios are for example purposes only. The 2019 taxable limitation was $18,100.

Scenario 1	Total wages	Taxable wages
First quarter 2019	$19,000.00	$18,100.00
Second quarter 2019	$19,000.00	$0.00
Third quarter 2019	$6,000.00	$0.00
Fourth quarter 2019	$16,000.00	$0.00
2019 total	$60,000.00	$18,100.00

Scenario 2	Total wages	Taxable wages
First quarter 2019	$5,000.00	$5,000.00

Quarter	Months	Due Date
First	Jan, Feb, March	April 30
Second	April, May, June	July 31
Third	July, Aug, Sept	Oct 31
Fourth	Oct, Nov, Dec	Jan 31

What Do We Mean By “File?”

When any document is required to be filed by the provisions of the Act or the Rules promulgated under the authority of the Act with the OESC, any of its representatives, or the Board of Review for the Commission, the term file, files, or filed shall be defined as follows:

- ⌘ Hand-delivered to the central administrative office of the OESC by close of business on or before the date due

- ⌘ Mailed with sufficient postage and properly addressed to the address indicated on the determination letter, order or other document issued by OESC on or before the date due. Timely mailing shall be determined by the postmark. If there is no proof from the post office of the date of mailing, the date of receipt by the Commission shall constitute the date of filing
- ⌘ Electronically transmitted through data lines to OESC, as directed by the instructions on the determination letter, order or other document issued by the Commission, by midnight on or before the date due. Timely transmission shall be determined by the Commission’s transmission log file

EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS

What is an Experience Rating?

“Experience rating” is the system by which tax rates vary in relation to an employer’s experience with unemployment. Experience rating has three major objectives:

- ⌘ Serve as an incentive to stabilize employment
- ⌘ Produce proper allocation of the cost of unemployment benefits
- ⌘ Encourage employer participation in the program

When am I Eligible for an Earned Experience Contribution Rate?

Unless you are subject to 40 O.S. §3-111 or 3-111.1, beginning with the 2016 rate year, an employer shall meet the At-Risk Rule, as defined by Section 3-110.1, and be eligible for an earned tax rate if, throughout the calendar year immediately preceding the year for which the employer's tax rate is being determined, there was an individual who could have filed a claim for unemployment benefits in each quarter of that year establishing a base period, as defined by Section 1-202 of this title, which would include wages from that employer.

When am I Eligible for a New Contribution Rate?

Unless you are subject to 40 O.S. §3-111 or 3-111.1, newly subject employers will be eligible for a new contribution rate; for the 2019 rate year, the new employer rate is 1.5%.

The new employer rate is applied to all newly subject employers until sufficient experience history exists in the employer account to meet the At-Risk Rule, as defined by Section 3-110.1. If the account meets the At-Risk Rule, the employer will qualify for an earned experience contribution rate.

What Constitutes a Successor Employer?

Pursuant to 40 O.S. §3-111, any employing unit which acquires substantially all of the trade, organization, employees, business, or assets of an employer and who continues the operations as a going business on or before 10-31-16 shall be determined to be a successor employer. The successor employer shall acquire the experience rating account of the predecessor employer, including the predecessor’s actual contribution and benefit experience, annual payrolls, and contribution rate.

Pursuant to 40 O.S. §3-111.1, if an employer transfers all or a portion of its business to another employer and, at the time of transfer, there is substantially common ownership, management or control of the two employers, the histories of the employers will be combined.

What is an Experience Period?

According to 40 O.S. §1-227, experience period means:

- ⌘ For any tax year occurring after December 31, 2006, the most recent twelve (12) consecutive completed calendar quarters occurring before July 1 of the year immediately preceding the year for which the employer’s contribution rate is being calculated

An employer’s benefit wage ratio is the percentage equal to the total of benefit wage charges in the experience period divided by the timely taxable payroll used to compute eligibility of claimants during the same three-year experience period immediately prior to July 1 of the year for which the rates are being computed (a period less than three years for newly subject employers).

EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS

How is my Earned Contribution Rate Computed?

Rates are computed for all eligible employers effective January 1 of each calendar year. The factors in the computation of an employer's contribution rate are:

- ☞ An employer's benefit wage ratio
- ☞ State experience factor
- ☞ Conditional factor (if applicable)

When am I Notified of our Tax Rates?

All employers are notified of their contribution rate on or before September 30 of the year prior to the effective rate year with Form OES-48, Notice of Employer's Contribution Rate. This rate is conclusive and binding upon the employer unless the employer files a written protest within 20 days of the date that the OES-48, Notice of Employer's Contribution Rate was mailed, including the specific reasons for the protest. OESC will provide a review and issue a determination. The employer may appeal the determination within 14 days of its postmark.

What is the Benefit Wage Ratio?

An employer's benefit wage ratio is the percentage equal to the total benefit wage charges in the experience period divided by the employer's timely taxable wages for the same experience period on which contributions have been paid on or before July 31 of the calendar year immediately preceding the year for which the rate is being calculated.

The following is an illustration of an employer's benefit wage ratio computation.

Experience Rate Period	Benefit Wage Charges	Timely Taxable Wages
2016-2017	$10,000.00	$80,000.00
2017-2018	$6,000.00	$100,000.00
2018-2019	$7,000.00	$115,000.00
-	$23,000.00	$295,000.00

Employer's benefit wage ratio = $23,000.00 divided by $295,000.00 = 0.07797 = 7.8%

The state experience factor is 48%.

The benefit wage ratio and state experience factor are then applied to the Rate Table to determine the contribution rate:

https://www.ok.gov/oesc_web/documents/rates.pdf

Therefore, the employer's contribution rate is 3.7%.

EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS

What is the State Experience Factor?

The state experience factor is calculated by dividing total benefits paid from the Unemployment Insurance trust fund for the most recent 12 quarters by the total benefit wages of all employers for the same 12-quarter period. The following illustration shows how the state experience factor was determined for 2019.

Benefits paid divided by	$ 848,616,617.62
Benefit Wage Charges	$1,786,317,505.78
State Experience Factor for 2015 rounded to nearest whole percent	48%

What is the Conditional Factor?

Based on the solvency of the Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund, the conditional factor is computed annually in accordance with 40 O.S. §3-113.

The method for determining an employer's earned experience rate involves comparing the employer's own benefit wage ratio to the state experience factor by the use of a table provided by law.

BENEFIT WAGE CHARGES

What Are Benefit Wage Charges?

“Benefit wage charges” are the claimant’s taxable base period wages reported by the employer to the OESC for use in determining the claimant’s eligibility to receive benefits. Benefit wage charges to an employer’s account are used in computing the employer’s contribution rate.

There may be instances where benefits are allowed, but the employer may be relieved of a benefit wage charge. More information on this can be found in 40 O.S. §3-105 and §3-106.

How am I Notified of Benefit Wage Charges?

If a claimant is allowed benefits based on the reason for separation at the time an initial claim was filed, and a valid benefit year has been established, an OES-502, Notice of Benefit Wages, is mailed to all base period employers showing the amount of base period wages being charged to them when benefits are paid to a claimant for the fifth week of unemployment in the benefit year. A copy of this notice should be retained for an employer’s permanent record, as no additional transcript will be furnished. An employer must protest the benefit wage charge in order to be relieved of the charge.

How Do I Protest a Benefit Wage Charge?

The protest must be written and contain both the basis for the protest and the circumstances of the claimant’s last separation from the employer. The protest must be filed within 20 days of the date of issue on the Notice of Benefit Wages. Failure to respond timely, without providing details demonstrating good cause for late filing, will result in no relief of the benefit wage charge.

Am I Notified of Action Taken on a Protested Benefit Wage Charge?

The employer is notified with a Notice of Cancellation of Benefit Wages if it is determined that the base period charge has been cancelled and will not be used in computing the employer’s tax rate. However, if it is determined that the base period wage charge will be used, the employer will receive an OES-503, Notice of Determination to Base Period Employer. The employer can appeal this determination. The appeal must be in writing and filed within 14 days after the OES-503, Notice of Determination to Base Period Employer was mailed.

BENEFIT WAGE CHARGES

What Are the Grounds for Protesting a Benefit Wage Charge?

An employer can protest a benefit wage charge when the claimant's separation from the employer was under the following circumstances:

- ⌘ The employee left the work voluntarily without good cause connected to the work.
- ⌘ The employee was discharged for misconduct connected with his or her work.
- ⌘ The employee was a regularly scheduled employee of that employer prior to the week the employee separated from other employment, and remained an employee of the employer through the fifth compensable week of unemployment in his or her established benefit year.
- ⌘ The employee was separated from employment as a direct result of a major natural disaster, declared as such by the President pursuant to the Disaster Relief Act of 1974, P.L. 93-288, and such employee would have been entitled to disaster unemployment assistance if employee had not received unemployment insurance benefits.
- ⌘ The employee was discharged for unsatisfactory performance during an initial employment probationary period. As used in this paragraph, "probationary period" means a period of time set forth in an established probationary plan which applies to all employees or a specific group of employees and does not exceed ninety (90) calendar days from the first day a new employee begins work. The employee must be informed of the probationary period within the first seven (7) work days. There must be conclusive evidence to establish that the individual was separated due to unsatisfactory work performance.
- ⌘ The employee left employment to attend training approved under the Trade Act of 1974 and is allowed unemployment benefits pursuant to 40 O.S. §2-416.
- ⌘ The employee was separated from employment for compelling family circumstances as defined in 40 O.S. §2-210.
- ⌘ The claimant was separated because of illness or disability which required cessation of work or change in occupation.
- ⌘ The claimant was separated because of illness or disability of immediate family member.
- ⌘ The claimant was separated because their spouse obtained employment in a location outside of commuting distance.
- ⌘ The claimant left a job as part of a plan to escape domestic violence or abuse.

REIMBURSING AND GOVERNMENTAL EMPLOYERS

What Are The Options For Reimbursing and Governmental Employers?

Non-profit organizations, as defined by 40 O.S. §1-210(4), and governmental employers may elect to make reimbursing payments in lieu of contributions. Rather than paying contributions based on a tax rate derived from their experience history, reimbursing employers make payments based on the full amount of benefits paid to former employees for wages which are attributable to their employ.

Reimbursing employers are required to reimburse for benefits paid regardless of the reason for separation.

Governmental employers who choose not to elect to make reimbursing payments shall make quarterly payments based on a fixed 1% of taxable wages.

Reimbursing and governmental (1%) employers will receive an OES-866, Notice to Reimbursing and Governmental Employers at the time an unemployment claim is filed. This notice only provides the taxable wages earned from the employer that were used in determining the claimant's benefit amount. It does not allow the employer the ability to protest the claimant's eligibility for benefits based upon the separation from their employ. If a reimbursing or governmental employer is the last employer of 15 days or more, they will also receive the OES-617, Notice of Application for Unemployment Compensation. This notice does allow the employer to protest the eligibility of the claimant to receive benefits.

Following the end of the quarter, reimbursing employers will receive the OES-876, Quarterly Statement for Reimbursement of Benefits Paid.

This statement will detail the amounts of benefits paid to claimants for which the employer is required to make reimbursing payments to the Commission.

What Are The Options For Tribal Employers?

An Indian tribe or tribal unit may choose to pay contributions in the same manner as nongovernmental employees for profit. However, an Indian tribe or tribal unit may also elect to make reimbursing payments in lieu of contributions. Indian tribes shall determine whether reimbursement of benefits paid shall be elected by the tribe as a whole, by individual tribal units, or by combinations of tribal units.

UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS

How Do You Qualify for Unemployment Benefits?

In order to be eligible for unemployment benefits, a claimant must be all of the following:

- ☞ Separated from work or working less than full time
- ☞ Registered and diligently seeking work during each week in which he/she applies for benefits
- ☞ Able to work and available to perform work duties in keeping with education, training and experience

A claimant's self-employment cannot interfere with their availability for employment or the type of work they are seeking. In addition, all self-employment wages must be reported. The claimant cannot be working on a commission or receiving or seeking unemployment benefits from another state or the United States.

What Are the Maximum Unemployment Benefit Amounts?

The unemployment benefit amount is determined by the qualifying wages paid to a claimant during the claimant's base period.

The benefit amounts are calculated each year. In Oklahoma, weekly payments range from a minimum of $16 to the current year's weekly maximum of $520.00.

Computation of the maximum benefit amount changes each year based on the conditional factor associated with the state's Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund.

The number of weeks a claimant can receive unemployment benefits during his/her benefit year is limited to a maximum of 26 weeks.

How Do I Protest Benefits?

When an employer receives a notice of application, they will have 10 days from the postmark date of the notice to protest the claim. If the tenth day falls on a Saturday, Sunday or holiday, the employer will have until the next working day. If an employer does not protest by the tenth day, they will not be considered an interested party to any subsequent determinations.

When protesting claims, employers should provide specific facts regarding the separation. Protests that only say, "Discharged due to misconduct" fall short of providing useful information. OESC needs to know what caused the separation on that particular day, whether the claimant had received any warnings, and what the claimant should have done that could have prevented the separation.

What is a Valid Claim?

A "valid claim" is an unemployment insurance claim filed in accordance with the rules of the OESC by a claimant who has the necessary qualifying wages.

What is a Benefit Year?

A "benefit year" is a one-year unemployment insurance benefit eligibility period that begins on Sunday of the week the first valid unemployment insurance claim is filed.

What is a Base Period?

The "base period" is the first four of the last five completed calendar quarters immediately preceding the first day of a claimant's benefit year.

UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS

How to Apply for Unemployment Benefits:

When an individual files a new claim for unemployment benefits, OESC notifies the last covered employer of 15 or more working days. When a claimant returns to work during their benefit year and is separated from the new job, the claimant can reopen their current claim. If the claimant is separated from employment for any reason other than lack of work, an investigation will be conducted, and a determination will be issued allowing or denying unemployment benefits in accordance with state law. The employer will only be an interested party to the determination if a timely, response is received in accordance with 40 O.S. §2-503. Employers who are not interested parties will not receive a copy of the determination and will not have appeal rights to any subsequent determinations.

What is Able and Available?

The claimant must be able and available for work each week. Any individual who is able or available for work the majority of the week (three out of the five normal workdays) is considered able and available.

Can a Claimant Who Quits Collect Unemployment Benefits?

A claimant who voluntarily leaves their last job without good cause connected to the work is subject to disqualification from benefits. The burden of proof for good cause connected to the work in a voluntary quit is on the claimant.

For a claimant to establish benefits after a disqualification, they must be reemployed and earn wages equal to or in excess of ten (10) times their weekly benefit amount. However, there exists certain circumstances that are not work related that will result in allowance of benefits.

Can a Claimant Who is Fired for Misconduct Collect Unemployment Benefits?

A claimant discharged from their last work for misconduct connected to the work is subject to disqualification for benefits.

In cases of discharge for misconduct, the burden of proof to establish misconduct is on the employer. To lift the disqualification, the claimant must be reemployed and earn wages equal to or in excess of ten (10) times their weekly benefit amount.

What Are Other Separation Issues?

An individual who ceases work due to a labor dispute or strike against their employer is ineligible for benefits if they participate in the dispute and voluntarily remain out of employment for purposes of the dispute. This applies to all circumstances except where the employer has locked out the employees. Labor dispute issues are sent to the OESC Appeal Tribunal for decisions.

UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS

Other Issues Affecting Eligibility:

A claimant can also be denied benefits or have benefits reduced:

- ⌘ In cases involving fraud or misrepresentation
- ⌘ If the claimant is not able and/or available for work in keeping with their prior work experience, training and education
- ⌘ If the claimant is an alien not lawfully permitted to work in the United States
- ⌘ Between two successive seasons, if benefits are based on services performed as a professional athlete, and services were performed in the first season, and there is reasonable assurance the claimant will perform services in the second season
- ⌘ Between two academic years or terms, if benefits are based on services performed as a school employee, and there is reasonable assurance that the claimant will perform such services in the second academic year or term. School employees are ineligible during customary vacation periods or holiday recesses if they have reasonable assurance of returning to work
- ⌘ If the claimant is enrolled in scheduled school activities and is not willing to quit school, adjust their schedule or change shifts to secure employment
- ⌘ Dismissal and/or severance payments required by law or contract
- ⌘ Unemployment benefits under an unemployment compensation law of another state or the United States
- ⌘ Pension or retirement pay based on previous work, if such payment is under a plan maintained or contributed to by a base period employer
- ⌘ Wages from part time employment
- ⌘ Vacation and/or sick leave payments in a circumstance when required to return to work on a specific date or at the end of a specific vacation

What About Employees Working for Temporary Agencies?

For the purposes of this section, the following definitions apply.

“Temporary help firm” means a firm that hires its own employees and assigns them to clients to support or supplement the client's work force in work situations such as employee absences, temporary skill shortages, seasonal workloads, and special assignments and projects.

“Temporary employee” means an employee assigned to work for the clients of a temporary help firm.

A temporary employee of a temporary help firm will be deemed to have left his or her last work voluntarily without good cause connected with the work if the temporary employee:

- ⌘ Does not contact the temporary help firm for reassignment on completion of an assignment. The temporary help firm shall establish the manner for a temporary employee to communicate that his or her assignment has ended and that he or she is available for reassignment at any time
- ⌘ Refuses a suitable job assignment, without good cause
- ⌘ Communicates his or her decision to cease seeking assignment for any period of time

What About Employees Working for Temporary Agencies? Continued

- ⌘ Becomes unavailable to accept a suitable job assignment, without good cause
- ⌘ Accepts employment with a client of the temporary help firm

Note: This provision shall apply only if the temporary employee has been advised of the obligations and has been provided a copy of a separate document written in clear and concise language that states the provision of this section and that unemployment benefits may be denied for failure to comply.

For unemployment insurance purposes, the temporary help firm is deemed to be the employer of the temporary employee. This means that regardless of the particular business requirement of the temporary agency, if the claimant contacts the temporary service upon the completion of an assignment, and no work is available, the claimant will be considered to be laid off due to lack of work.

In addition, the claimant must be made aware of the requirement to check in upon the completion of an assignment. The objective of the claimant is also considered.

What About Employees Hired for Limited Periods of Time?

- ⌘ When an employer employs a worker for a limited duration of time specified by the employer, the worker is considered to have been laid off due to lack of work at the end of the time period set by the employer, provided that the worker's separation was due only to the completion of the work or the expiration of the time period
- ⌘ When an employer employs a worker for a limited duration of time specified by the worker, the worker is considered to have voluntarily quit work at the end of the time period set by the worker, provided that the worker's separation was due only to the expiration of the time period

This means that if the employee sets the dates of employment then, upon completion of the length of time specified by the employee, the employee is considered to have quit the job. If the employer sets the dates of employment then, upon completion of the length of time specified by the employer, the employee is considered to have been laid off due to a lack of work.

If the individual separates before the agreed upon last day of employment, then OESC looks at why the individual separated and makes a ruling upon the reason for separation.

UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS

What Do I Need to Know About Drug and Alcohol Testing?

In order to establish that the drug or alcohol test of an unemployment insurance claimant was conducted in accordance with the Standards for Workplace Drug and Alcohol Testing Act, 40 O.S. §551 through §565, the employer must produce the following documentation:

- ❧ Documentation of a positive test result issued by the testing facility that performed the test
- ❧ Documentation of the chain of custody of the testing sample from the point of collection to the testing facility
- ❧ The medical review officer's certification of proper testing standards and procedures
- ❧ A statement concerning the circumstances, as set out in 40 O.S. §554, under which the testing was requested or required
- ❧ A copy of the employer's drug testing policy, as required by 40 O.S. §555
- ❧ Documentation showing that the employer provides an employee assistance program, as required by 40 O.S. §561
- ❧ Any evidence relevant to the adjudication of questions of fact or law regarding drug or alcohol testing that may be an issue in the claim for unemployment benefits

The claimant must be tested for a valid reason. Valid reasons include but are not limited to:

- ❧ Testing of a new applicant
- ❧ Testing under reasonable suspicion
- ❧ Post-accident testing
- ❧ Random testing
- ❧ Scheduled periodic testing

If an employer does not have an established drug testing policy that conforms to the Standards for Workplace Drug and Alcohol Testing Act and that employer discharges someone for testing positive for drugs, the discharged individual cannot be disqualified from receiving unemployment insurance because of the positive drug test.

What if They Were Fired for Refusing to Undergo Drug and Alcohol Testing?

An employee discharged on the basis of a refusal to undergo drug or alcohol testing or a confirmed positive drug or alcohol test conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Standards for Workplace Drug and Alcohol Testing Act shall be considered to have been discharged for misconduct and shall be disqualified for benefits pursuant to provisions of 40 O.S. §2-406. In any claim brought by the discharged employee for compensation, a copy of the drug or alcohol test results shall be accepted as prima facie evidence of the administration and results of the drug or alcohol test.

Who Has the Burden of Proof?

When an individual is discharged, the burden of proof lies with the employer to show the discharge was for misconduct connected with the work. When an individual quits, the burden of proof lies with that individual to show good cause for quitting.

UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS

Can a Claimant Refuse Offers of Suitable Work?

An individual is disqualified from receiving benefits if he/she fails to:

- ✎ Diligently search for suitable employment at a pay rate generally available in that area and keeping with his/her prior experience, education and training
- ✎ Apply for work with employers who could reasonably be expected to have work available within the claimant's general geographic area
- ✎ Present himself/herself as an applicant in a manner designed to encourage consideration for employment
- ✎ Accept an offer of work from an employer, including any former employer
- ✎ Apply for or accept an offer of work when so directed by the OESC Workforce Services staff
- ✎ Accept employment pursuant to a hiring hall agreement when so offered

Any individual violation of the first three stipulations is disqualified for the week in which the violation occurred. An individual in violation of the last three stipulations is disqualified for the week in which the violation occurred, and disqualification will continue until the individual becomes reemployed and has earned wages equal to or in excess of 10 times his/her weekly benefit amount.

Any individual violating the last three requirements due to illness, death of a family member or other circumstances beyond his/her control will be disqualified for regular benefits under this section only for the week of the violation.

Further, any individual disqualified for the week of the occurrence of such circumstances beyond his/her control is not eligible for extended benefits for the purposes of 40 O.S. §2-701 through §2-724 until such individual has become re-employed and has earned wages equal to at least 10 times his/her weekly benefit amount.

Am I Notified of Claims Filed Against Me?

In accordance with 40 O.S. §2-503, the last employer for whom the claimant worked at least 15 working days is notified when the claimant begins receiving unemployment benefits. An OES-617, Notice of Application for Unemployment Compensation is mailed to the separating employer. One important factor to protect an employer is for the employer to respond to all notices in a timely manner with complete information. Appeal rights are based on written responses.

Can I Appeal a Determination?

The employer or the claimant may file an appeal if either interested party disagrees with the determination. The appeal must be in writing and postmarked or faxed within 10 days from the date the determination was mailed. If no appeal is filed within the 10-day period, the determination becomes final, and benefit payments will be made or denied based on the determination.

UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS

How to Protest an Unemployment Claim:

Many employers may not be aware of the requirements of responding to notices of unemployment claims. 40 O.S. §2-503(E) states:

- E. Within ten (10) days after the date on the notice or the date of the postmark on the envelope in which the notice was sent, whichever is later, an employer may file with the Commission at the address prescribed in the notice written objections to the claim setting forth specific facts which
1. Make the claimant ineligible for benefits under 40 O.S. §2-201 through §2-210;
 2. Disqualify the claimant from benefits under 40 O.S. §2-401 through §2-419; or
 3. Relieve such employer from being charged for the benefits wages of such claimant.

If an employer protests with inadequate information, they will receive a decision in the mail stating that their protest has been received, but there is inadequate information surrounding the separation to make the employer an interested party. As a result, the employer will not receive a copy of the separation determination and will not have appeal rights if they believe the claim is allowed in error.

After receiving an OES-617, Notice of Application for Unemployment Compensation, an employer can file a protest if any reason exists showing the claimant should be denied benefits. A written reply must be postmarked within 10 days of the date the OES-617, Notice of Application for Unemployment Compensation was mailed. If an employer does not reply within 10 days, they may be contacted for information on job separation and other subjects.

IMPORTANT: Being contacted by OESC does NOT mean an employer is considered an interested party.

If the claimant voluntarily left work or was discharged by the employer, the employer's protest should include full and complete facts. In case of a voluntary quit, the reason the individual gave for leaving should be included as well as an explanation as to why the employer does not think the reason was justified. In case of a discharge for misconduct, an employer should explain the nature of the misconduct in detail.

What if I am Late Responding to the OES-617?

If an employer wishes to protest, but missed the 10 day response time, the employer should still write a written response, following the details given in "How to Protest an Unemployment Claim," but also include a written justification for being late to respond. The information will be treated as a response only and not as a protest to the receipt of benefits since no separation details were provided. No appealable determination will be issued.

UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS

What Reply Do I Receive in Response to a Protest?

When an employer's timely protest is received that complies with 40 O.S. §2-503, the employer becomes an interested party to the claim and will be mailed a Notice of Determination in regard to the claim. If the claimant does not have sufficient wages within their base period to qualify for unemployment compensation, the employer will be notified by letter. If there have been no issues raised, or claimant was released for lack of work, no notice will be mailed to the employer.

How Does the Appeal Process Work?

When an appeal is received from either the claimant or the employer, the Appeal Tribunal schedules a hearing and notifies all interested parties of the time and place of the hearing. Testimony in these hearings is under oath and recorded. An Administrative Hearing Officer considers the record and renders a decision. Copies of the decision are mailed to all interested parties. Further appeal of this decision may be made to the Board of Review within 10 days from the date the decision was mailed. After the opinion of the Board of Review is issued, further appeal may be made within 30 days to the district court having jurisdiction.

What is Misconduct?

A claimant discharged from their last work for misconduct connected to the work is subject to disqualification for benefits. In cases of discharge for misconduct, the burden of proof to establish misconduct is on the employer. To lift the disqualification, the claimant must be reemployed and earn wages equal to or in excess of ten (10) times their weekly benefit amount.

Misconduct shall include, but is not limited to the following:

1. Any intentional act or omission by an employee which constitutes a material or substantial breach of the employee's job duties or responsibilities or obligations pursuant to his or her employment or contract of employment;
2. Unapproved or excessive absenteeism or tardiness;
3. Indifference to, breach of, or neglect of the duties required which result in a material or substantial breach of the employee's job duties or responsibilities;
4. Actions or omissions that place in jeopardy the health, life, or property of self or others;
5. Dishonesty;
6. Wrongdoing;
7. Violation of a law; or
8. A violation of a policy or rule enacted to ensure orderly and proper job performance or for the safety of self or others.

NEW HIRE REPORTING

What is the Purpose of New Hire Reporting?

The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA) requires employers to report certain information on their newly hired employees to a designated state agency.

On December 8, 2010, the President signed the Claims Resolution Act (Public Law 111-291) into law, which resolves several claims against the government and extends the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families and related programs. The law also makes reforms to the Unemployment Insurance program, including the requirement that employers report to the State Directory of New Hires (SDNH) the date that an employee first performs services for pay. This is an anti-fraud measure aimed at reducing the number of overpayments to individuals receiving unemployment insurance benefits. The law amends section 453 A of the Social Security Act effective June 8, 2011, and the new SDNH reporting requirements go into effect on that day.

OESC is the designated state agency in Oklahoma that receives these new hire reports. The Child Support Enforcement Division (CSED) of the Oklahoma Department of Human Services is the repository for Oklahoma's directory of new hires. Many states have selected their child support program as the designated state agency to receive the new hire reports. The Oklahoma Legislature determined that since employers are accustomed to reporting quarterly wage data to OESC, it would be less burdensome for employers to report their new hire reports to OESC as well. OESC and CSED have partnered together to develop the OES-112, New Hire Reporting Form, data file layout and a pamphlet.

New hires must be reported within 20 days of the employee's start date of performing services. The Date of Hire is being redefined to mean the date that an employee actually started performing services instead of the date they are hired.

Employers play a key role in this important program by reporting all newly hired employees to OESC which then forwards all new hire reporting information to the Oklahoma CSED.

What is New Hire Information Used For?

CSED will match new hire reports against their child support records to locate parents, establish a child support order or enforce an existing order. Once these matches are done, Oklahoma will transmit the new hire reports to the National Directory of New Hires (NDNH). OESC may also use the state new hire information to detect and prevent erroneous benefit payments. In addition, the Department of Human Services (DHS) can conduct matches between the new hire database and other state programs to prevent unlawful or erroneous receipt of public assistance payments. The information provided will be used to match new hires against unemployment benefit claims to help detect and prevent fraudulent unemployment payments.

New Hire Reporting Benefits You!

A direct benefit to employers is the reduction and prevention of fraudulent unemployment and workers' compensation payments. Timely receipt of new hire data allows OESC to cross-match this data against its active unemployment claimant files and either stop payments or recover erroneous payments. To ensure a correct match, it is important to provide both a name and Social Security Number.

What is The Deadline For Reporting New Hires?

All newly hired employees must be reported to OESC within 20 days of being hired if an employer is reporting by mail or fax. Employers who report electronically must report at least twice monthly, within at least 20 days of an employee being hired. "Date started to work" is defined as the first day services are performed by the employee for a wage.

How Do States Know Where Their State's New Hires are Being Reported?

The National Directory of New Hires (NDNH) will maintain a list of those multi-state employers that have elected to use single-state notification. The designated reporting locations of those employers will be made available to all states so they can be aware of where their state's new hires are being reported.

What Form is Used to Report New Hires?

Employers are encouraged to report new hires by either submitting reports by electronic media or by mailing or faxing a copy of the OES-112, New Hire Reporting Form.

https://www.ok.gov/oesc/newhire/app/forms/oes-112 NewHire rev 11-11.pdf

It is suggested that an employer complete one form with their Federal Employer Identification Number (FEIN), Oklahoma Employer Account Number, company name, payroll address and telephone number and then make several photocopies of this form. This way, an employer only needs to add employee specific information. Because not all legally required data is included on W-4 forms, it is not recommended that employers use W-4s for new hire reporting purposes.

How is the New Hire Data Safeguarded?

Security and privacy of new hire data are important issues for all those involved in the implementation of this nationwide program. Oklahoma law requires safeguarding confidential information. All data will be sent from Oklahoma to the National New Hire Directory over secure and dedicated lines. Federal law requires that the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services establish and implement safeguards to protect the integrity and security of information in the National Directory of New Hires and to restrict access to and use of the information to authorized persons and purposes.

NEW HIRE REPORTING

How Do I Submit New Hire Data?

New hire data may be submitted in a variety of ways:

- ☞ OESC recommends that businesses use the convenient online new hire reporting system.

<https://www.ok.gov/oesc/newhire/app/index.php>

- ☞ Data is entered directly into the system for each employee and may be entered at the employer's convenience by entering as many or as few records at a time as desired.
- ☞ Businesses who currently have their own computerized personnel or accounting system in place and who gather all of the required data for their employees may wish to submit electronically. A file layout is provided at:

https://www.ok.gov/oesc/newhire/app/newhire_ascii_file_specs.html

- ☞ Employers may create their file using the provided layout and submit the file through our online process or copy to a CD according to the instructions and mail to the following address.

Fax or mail to:

Oklahoma New Hire Reporting Center
P.O. Box 52004
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73152-2004
Toll free fax: (800) 317-3786
Local fax: (405) 557-5350

How Do Multi-State Employers Report to One State?

Employers may not report new hires using both multi-state and single-state methods. They must choose one or the other.

If an employer chooses to report new hire data on all employees to only one of the states in which they have a presence, they must comply with the following requirements:

- ☞ Notify the Secretary of Health and Human Services in writing, specifying which state the employer has designated as recipient of all their new hire information for their entire business.

The notification should be mailed to:

Department of Health and Human Services
Multistate Employer Registration
Office of Child Support Enforcement
P.O. Box 509
Randallstown, MD 21133
(202) 401-9267

At a minimum, the employer should include the employer's name and address. The following optional information is also recommended:

- ☞ Federal Employer Identification Number (FEIN)
- ☞ Employer phone number
- ☞ States in which the company does business
- ☞ Estimated number of new hires per year
- ☞ Corporate point of contact for clarification of data

NEW HIRE REPORTING

- ✎ Transmit all new hire information electronically in accordance with the designated state's requirements. An employer does not need to report the required elements from each state in which they have employees. Employers are only asked to report what is required by the state they have selected for reporting purposes

Please note, however, that if an employer chooses to report to one state, the information may not be available to the employee's work state for purposes of detecting fraud in the unemployment insurance or workers' compensation programs.

Section 2-503 of the Oklahoma Employment Security Act

- A. Claims for benefits shall be made in accordance with such rule as the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission may prescribe.
- B. Promptly after the initial claim or the additional initial claim is filed, the Commission shall give written notice of the claim to the last employer of the claimant for whom he or she worked at least fifteen (15) working days. Promptly after the Commission is notified of the claimant's separation from an employment obtained by a claimant during a continued claim series, the Commission shall give written notice of the claim to the last separating employer. Notices to separating employers during a continued claim series will be given to the last employer in the claim week without regard to length of employment.
- C. Promptly after the claim is paid for the fifth week of benefits, the Commission shall give written notice of the claim to all other employers of the claimant during the claimant's base period. The notice will be given pursuant to Section 3-105 of this title.
- D. Notices shall be deemed given when the Commission deposits the same in the United States mail addressed to the employer's last-known address. Notice shall be presumed prima facie to have been given to an employer to whom addressed on the date stated in the written notice.
- E. Within ten (10) days after the date of the notice or the date of the postmark on the envelope in which the notice was sent, whichever is later, an employer may file with the Commission at the address prescribed in the notice written objections to the claim setting forth specifically the facts which:

1. Make the claimant ineligible for benefits under Sections 2-201 through 2-209 of this title;
2. Disqualify the claimant from benefits under Sections 2-401 through 2-418 of this title; or
3. Relieve such employer from being charged for the benefits wages of such claimant.
