III.	Youth Advisory Council

A Youth Advisory Council ("YAC") is an engagement strategy tool used to positively incorporate youth voice and build capacity of participants. As a subaward recipient you will be challenged with engaging youth and empowering them to guide local policy and program development to prevent youth crime. The SAG and Youth Emerging Leaders ("YEL") committee have adopted the mission to ensure those impacted by the juvenile justice system have a voice in the implementation of programming and practices designed to support the success of young emerging adults who find themselves impacted by the justice system. As you prepare for this project, consider who will be involved on your committee.

Do you have an existing YAC?	☐ Yes	☐ No

If you have identified an existing YAC, please list names and contact information below.

If you do not have a YAC, the first part of the award period will be spent developing and implementing a YAC. In the section designated below, describe your implementation plans. An active YAC must be in place within the first ninety (90) days of the contract period. Technical assistance is available with implementing a YAC. Quarterly updates must be provided to demonstrate implementation progress.
