GRANT APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS & FORMS

I. GENERAL INFORMATION

A. Program Description Overview

The Oklahoma State Advisory Group on Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (“SAG”)¹ is seeking proposals for grant funding.

Funds are available through the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (“JJDP”) Formula Grant Program², a federal grant program under the United States Department of Justice. This year, the SAG will award funds for the purpose of delinquency prevention.

B. Eligibility

1. This solicitation is open to all Tribal Nations.
2. No person shall be excluded from participation, be denied the benefits, or be otherwise subjected to discrimination or denied employment in connection with the awarding of grants on the grounds of race, religion, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, or disability.

C. Contact Information Grant Period and Renewal Periods

Successful applicants will receive a contract for the period of date of contract signature through September 30, 2025.

D. Funding Availability for Urban and Rural Areas

It is the intention of SAG to ensure funds will be awarded to rural areas as well as urban areas. In that effort, allocations will be distributed among geographical areas.

E. Target Population

Tribal youth in need of protective factor development to strengthen and support delinquency prevention or interrupt further juvenile justice system involvement.

F. Funds Available for Award

The SAG has $515,000.00 that may be divided among selected applicants. No single award may exceed $250,000.

¹ The SAG consists of members from the public and private sector, all of whom are appointed by the Governor. The SAG will be responsible for recommending funding for this formula grants.

² For statutory authority, see The Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act, 34 U.S.C. § 11101 et seq.

G. Purpose

OJA is seeking proposals from qualified organizations or entities to design and implement a back-to-school transition program for youth ages 13-18. The goal is to equip youth with essential skills related to school readiness, basic and independent life skills “life skills”, and personal development opportunities to support a successful transition back to formal education settings and reducing delinquent behaviors.

H. Focus

The SAG will use the following standards to review Grant Proposals (“Proposal”):

1. Applicants that are proposing the use of evidenced-based or promising programs to address the problems identified in Section J;
2. Proposals that demonstrate the ability to measure outcomes and successes; and
3. Proposed programs that address the four (4) core protections of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act (“JJDP”) for youth in their juvenile justice policies and practices. The four (4) core protections are 1. Deinstitutionalize status offenders (DSO), 2. Adult jail and lock-up removal, 3. Sight and sound separation, and 4. Racial and ethnic disparities.

I. Goals

To support evidence-based or promising delinquency intervention and prevention programs that assist youth in the development of protective factors. Developing life skills, school readiness, and personal growth during adolescence lays the foundation for a successful and fulfilling adulthood. Life skills such as, but not limited to, problem-solving, communication, and emotional regulation assist the development of skills necessary for decision making. School readiness prepares youth for their transition into a formal education setting and enhances their ability to develop skills such as time management, self-discipline, and teamwork. Personal development incorporates large scale focal points such as goal setting, self-awareness, and resilience. Together, these areas empower adolescents to succeed in careers, support communities, and lead purpose-driven lives.

J. Objectives

1. To provide funding for evidenced-based or promising comprehensive delinquency prevention programs targeting tribal youth ages thirteen (13) to eighteen (18).
2. To increase tribal youth’s development of life skills to enhance decision making and development of healthy relationships through culturally responsive curriculum.

3. To increase readiness skills for the tribal youth's transition back to formal education settings or to the workforce.
4. To support tribal youth's personal development related to emotional growth and establishment of protective factors resulting in a stronger tribal community.

II. GRANT PROPOSAL PACKET REQUIREMENTS
