OHCA Announces Chief Quality Officer and State Coordinator for Health Information Exchange

Oklahoma City, OK – Chris Radley and Steve Miller joined the Oklahoma Health Care Authority as Chief Quality Officer and State Coordinator for Health Information Exchange, respectively. Each bring a proven track record of success at the executive level of the healthcare industry.

"Chris and Steve are excellent individuals to add to our team," said Kevin Corbett, Secretary of Health and Mental Health and OHCA CEO. "They are both driven and passionate about serving those in need. I am looking forward to seeing how their work will support our mission and provide better health outcomes."

Radley will assume the role of Chief Quality Officer to implement specific quality improvement strategies focusing on Oklahoma's efforts of becoming a top 10 state in health outcomes.

Radley specialized in healthcare quality during his career, and most recently served as director of quality management for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Kansas City. He earned a Bachelor's Degree in Psychology and Health Science from the State University of New York at Oswego and a Master of Business Administration from Frostburg State University.

Radley is also a Certified Professional in Healthcare Quality and a National Committee for Quality Assurance Patient Centered Medical Home Certified Content Expert. Radley will continue to serve NCQA as an external surveyor and faculty member.

"I am honored to serve in the CQO role and look forward to building on OHCA's strong foundation in improving health care affordability, access, equity, value and patient and provider experience," Radley said. "I am excited to work with such an incredibly talented team and mission-driven organization."

Miller will serve as State Coordinator for Health Information Exchange and is responsible for overseeing and implementing the Oklahoma Health Transparency Initiative Act. Miller has extensive experience in health information exchanges, information technology governance and operations as well as information management. He most recently served as Chief Information Officer at Baptist Health Montgomery Alabama. Miller earned a Bachelor's Degree in Organizational Development from Southern Nazarene University.

Miller was involved in the formation of Oklahoma's early HIE systems including, SmartNet, Coordinated Care of Oklahoma, Coordinated Care Health Network and MyHealth.

"The opportunity to bring a robust statewide Health Information Exchange capability to Oklahomans is exciting to me," Miller said. "I look forward to working with healthcare organizations and providers to make this a reality. My goal is to make the vision of seamless care coordination and records access across care venues a reality soon."
