9/18/2018	Richard DeSirey	In 1990, as a manager of an outpatient clinic in Tulsa, when the Department of Human Services was responsible for outpatient mental health services funded through Medicaid (before OHCA or ODMHSAS), I recall the rates for an hour of psychotherapy in the clinic being $75.00 hour. Now at $68.72 per hour, 28 years later and about 10% less, it would be encouraging for therapists to receive a 3% increase.
