Bernita Hart, Director-Asbestos/ALFS/Licensing, Oklahoma Department of Labor, was present to answer questions regarding licenses issued by the Department of Labor. Discussion included trainees working under supervision of a licensed technician, background checks, repetitive licenses, combining licenses, grants, federal rules and guidelines, state statutes, fees, and testing requirements.

Steven Brekel, President, Oklahoma Burglar and Fire Alarm Association (OKBFAA), addressed the Commission. Mr. Brekel said several changes had been made since this was addressed by the Commission several years ago. Mr. Brekel said changes included removing most of the exam requirements for almost all salesperson positions. Mr. Brekel explained the purpose and requirements for a trainee license in the ALFS industry. Mr. Brekel discussed training, background checks and public safety.

Daniel Mares, ODOL General Counsel, addressed the Commission. Mr. Mares said five (5) to six (6) individuals are scheduled each month to have their background check results reviewed by the ALFS Committee and approximately half of those individuals show up for the meetings. Mr. Mares explained the process for review of background results.

Commission discussion continued employer responsibility, over regulation of licensing, consumer/public safety, business expenses, and cost of background checks.

Danna Fowble, Executive Director, OKBFAA, addressed the Commission. Mrs. Fowble said her organization has worked continually with this Commission to review and re-evaluate all the ALFS licenses. Mrs. Fowble discussed trainee verses apprenticeship programs.

Mr. Brekel addressed Commission questions regarding the Locksmith license, explaining the two (2) day class offered by his agency, test requirements, fees charged by the locksmithing industry, and work permitted under a Locksmith license.

Commissioner Osborn said individuals addressing the Commission are not testifying under a subpoena and should be addressed politely and with respect. Commissioner Osborn addressed Commission member Michael Robins' concerns that the Commission has not had enough meetings this year, stating we had to get an official opinion from the Attorney General's Office concerning the Open Meetings Act as to why the Commission met only once this year. Commissioner Osborn said when we began this Commission we had four hundred fifty (450) licenses and now are down to two hundred ten (210). Commissioner Osborn said she believes we have occupational licenses for two (2) reasons – integrity of the trade and public safety.

Regarding Occupational Licenses issued through the Oklahoma Department of Labor, items twenty-three (23) through twenty-six (26) ALFS Industry, Senator Kay Floyd made a motion recommending to the Legislature that no action be taken. The motion was seconded by Representative Mark McBride.

Senator Nathan Dahm asked Senator Floyd if she would consider amending her motion to recommend to the Legislature that requirements for an ALFS Technician license remain the same, however, removing training and examination requirements, leaving only the background check requirements in place for all other ALFS licenses. Senator Floyd replied that she is not comfortable with that. Commissioner Osborn said there is always the freedom for anyone to bring up these issues with their State Senator or State Representative.
