SEPTEMBER KUDOS HIGHLIGHTS

Recipient	Department	Reason
Aaron Niles	Outreach	Aaron Niles has recently completed training to remediate documents to maintain 508 compliance and accessibility guidelines. He spent several weeks diving in, and I appreciate his willingness to learn new things to help better serve our customers.
David Allen	Information Services	David is always helpful and willing to go the extra mile to ensure that the needs of District 3 with the Department of Transportation have been met.
Shaun Patrick	Information Services	Anytime I've reached out to Shaun with questions, he is always helpful and kind and shares the information needed for my team to support customers. Also, he makes sure we are aware of changes/possible calls prior to changes. His customer service skills are top-notch . Thank you, Shaun!
Dalton Jernigan	Capital Assets Management	Dalton was asked to look for documents needed for a project . And found them very quickly .
Chrystal Hedges	Human Capital Management	I want to thank Chrystal for her wonderful customer service , creativity, and organizational skills. Chrystal is always a pleasure to work with, but recently I've really appreciated her presence and expertise on the rollout of a few different training initiatives. She is not only pleasant to work with but makes you confident that the product is going to be of utmost quality .
Elvinn Tillman	Capital Assets Management	First of all, Central Printing is just all-around amazing! This particular kudo is for Elvinn Tillman, who not only handled all the Option Period materials that are in production right now but also took on last-minute State Suppliers Expo rush pieces, all without breaking a sweat and while being down vital staff members due to emergencies. And these are only OMES jobs - I know he and the Central Printing team are also juggling multiple jobs for other agencies right now as well. We are so lucky to have coworkers like Elvinn and team!!
