Discussion and possible action regarding Gov Core E-Licensing System

The Executive Director reminded the Board that last month they voted to give authorization for the agency to move forward with a software company Mi-Case to develop an e-licensing database system. Two weeks later Director Marion visited the Used Motor Vehicle Commission and learned about their new vendor, GovCore, owned by Julian Cardarelli, the ex-CEO of Thentia. Director Marion knew Julian when he worked at his former agency. Director Marion received a demonstration of GovCore and the Used Motor Vehicle Commission expressed their pleasure with their new system. The Director informed the Board that GovCore would charge $23,500 for the first year which was approximately $120,000 cheaper than Mi-Case. Deputy Director Maxwell went on the record stating that she had definite concerns about GovCore since Mr. Cardarelli was the CEO when Thentia's financial troubles began. Further concerns are his commitment and longevity, along with the 40 million dollar non-compete lawsuit between Thentia and Mr. Cardarelli.

After much discussion, legal counsel Scott May, stated that he needed time to review the correspondence between the ONMVC and Mi-Case to verify that the ONMVC was not obligated to continue with Mi-Case. Seth Wadley made a motion, seconded by Jared Glover, to authorize the agency to move forward with the vendor GovCore, subject to a legal review of the negotiations. The Chair called for a roll call vote; votes were as follows:

Curtis Hayes - aye	Blake Wilson – aye	Jared Glover - aye
Seth Wadley – aye	Jeff Johnson – aye	Jim Norton – aye
Jackie McClintock - no
