This information-filled day is geared towards bringing sexual assault awareness and community resources to the general public, allied professionals, and community partners of the state of Oklahoma.

This free event is open to the general public as well as professionals including law enforcement members, clinicians, community-based service organizations, and victim advocates, and serves to observe National Sexual Assault Awareness Month (SAAM); raise awareness about sexual assault prevention; and improve resources, outreach, and response strategies in Oklahoma communities.

We ask that your booth be staffed for the entire duration of the event; however, symposium registration is required if you would like to attend the symposium sessions. Undressed tables will be provided for information booths. Please provide your own tablecloth and any handouts, resource pamphlets, and/or any other information for dissemination to the public.

*There will be designated blocks of time throughout the day for attendees to visit information booths.

Your participation makes this initiative possible and your investment into the public service of Oklahomans is greatly appreciated. Several media interviews have been scheduled and we anticipate additional coverage before the symposium. Entities with confirmed booth reservations will be included in our promotion of the symposium. If this is problematic or if you wish to not to have the name of your organization released, please us know.

Please feel free to share this invite with any organization you feel would add value to this event and be a beneficial resource for our community members.
