Description of Services

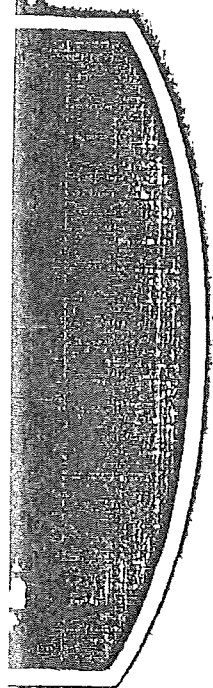

Special Care is committed to offering best practices in education and therapeutic intervention for children of all abilities, ages 6 weeks to 21 years.

Children participating in our program continue to achieve educational and therapeutic milestones they simply would not have without the specialized support and resources available in our program. Expansion of their abilities and self-esteem, our top priority, is nurtured by the literal expansion of our education program, a program that now includes a private, accredited pre-K and kindergarten program, a more rigorous academic curriculum in line with national Common Core standards, and an activities of daily living component beneficial to our school age and older students. These developments increase and renew Special Care's already innovative and expert approach to education and therapeutic intervention.

With expanded academic curricula and curricular mapping, Special Care's teachers meet with great success the national Common Core requirements and assessment expectations. In fact, in the past year our program earned re-accreditation with the National Association for the Education of Young Children as well as AdvancED accreditation, one of the world's premier educational accreditation associations.

Children with disabilities participating in our program benefit from a universal educational design that better meets the needs of children with disabilities because it takes their abilities as well as their special needs into consideration as part of the learning environment. On-site therapeutic intervention and consistent, daily interaction of therapists, teachers, and students augment the success of our learning environment. Students experience a nurturing educational environment that integrates their physical, emotional, cognitive, and social needs into learning activities. Barriers such as inaccessible equipment, social isolation, teachers without specialized training in special education, and limited therapeutic intervention often affect this population. Special Care removes these barriers.

Our expanded facility makes us strong in new ways, and our program--whether for infants and toddlers or older teens--is increasing in quality. We continuously look at best practices and focus our program design and decision-making based on what is best for the child. Direct care, education, and on-site physical, occupational, speech, and behavioral therapy within an inclusive environment are absolutely essential to the well-being of children with disabilities as well as the success of their families. Special Care is committed to providing this essential support to families and children of all abilities.
