

What is Wraparound?

Wraparound is a way to help families with complex needs stay connected as a family, and to help the child stay in the community.

It is about empowering the child and family to learn how to utilize natural/formal supports and community resources successfully. The Wraparound process is driven by the family and their support team, and helps to ensure that services result in positive outcomes for all.

FOR FAMILIES

Want to be Involved with Wraparound?

- Do you live in a county that has a System of Care site?
- Does your child experience behavioral problems in various settings?
- Do you believe your child may be diagnosable for a serious mental health challenge?
- Will your family voluntarily participate in the Wraparound program?

This publication was issued by the Oklahoma Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services, as authorized by Terri White, MSW, Commissioner. 500 copies were printed by the ODMHSAS Print Shop in June of 2013 at a cost of $375. Copies have been deposited with the Publications Clearinghouse of the Oklahoma Department of Libraries. Funding provided by the Systems of Care WAFA #41000/3030176 Grant, Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration.

We wish to thank Pam Toohey, the Birth Parent Association, in collaboration with Chadwick Center staff and the Chadwick Trauma-Informed Systems Project (www.ctisp.org) as part of the National Child Traumatic Stress Network (www.nctsn.org) for their assistance in creating this brochure.

OKLAHOMA SYSTEMS OF CARE

We Believe in 5 Core Values:

What that means for your family:

- Family Driven → Your family has a primary decision-making role in the care of your own children as well as the policies and procedures governing care for all children in your community, state, tribe, territory, and nation.
- Youth Guided → Youth are engaged as equal partners in creating systems change in policies and procedures at the individual, community, state and national levels.
- Community Based → We will try as hard as possible to help your family access resources located in your community since that's where your connections are.
- Culturally & Linguistically Welcoming → Services and supports will be tailored to the unique culture of your child and family. Family culture refers to family race and ethnicity as well as family habits, preferences, beliefs, language, rituals, and dress, based on "one family at a time". The culturally competent wraparound staff finds out the unique family cultural aspects of your family, and ensures that this principle is embedded in the wraparound plan.
- Trauma Informed Care → A trauma informed child and family service system is one in which all parties involved recognize and respond to the impact of traumatic stress on those who have contact with the system including children, caregivers, and service providers. Programs and agencies within such a system infuse and sustain trauma awareness, knowledge, and skills into their organizational cultures, practices, and policies. They act in collaboration with those who are involved with the child, using the best available science, to facilitate and support the recovery and resilience of the child and family.

What is trauma?

Experiences are considered traumatic when they threaten the life or well-being of the child or of someone critically important to the child (such as a parent, grandparent, or sibling). These include events such as witnessing or being the victim of violence, serious injury, or physical or sexual abuse. Unexpected separations from the family (such as entering foster care) can also be traumatic for children.
