EVENT SUMMARY

The Broken Arrow Pages Across the Plains Literacy Workshop drew an impressive 92 educators from 31 districts. The event stood out for its strong community support, with a variety of local sponsors and vendors partnering alongside participants to elevate the experience. Educators arrived eager to deepen their understanding of the Science of Reading, engaging in sessions that emphasized evidence-based practices and the importance of high-quality Tier 1 instruction. A notable highlight was the visible buy-in from district and site administrators, many of whom attended and actively participated in discussions around realigning systems to better support all learners. With rich community collaboration, strong leadership presence, and a clear focus on instructional transformation, the Broken Arrow workshop was a powerful testament to the region's commitment to literacy excellence.
